	A few Tbsp olive oil	2	Or 3 ribs of celery, sliced, optional

Procedure

- 1 Here's what I've done a time or four. This "recipe" has not been cooked often enough to be stabilized and really called a recipe. Still, there have been no complaints and many requests for seconds.
- 2 A tsp to a Tbsp or so of the following (to taste): Onion powder Garlic powder (NOT garlic salt) Ground black pepper Ground red pepper (cayenne) Ground white pepper Basil Parsley Paprika Oregano Spaghetti
- 3 Put the chicken into a crockpot early in the day. It's fine if they are still frozen. Add as little liquid as possible. Water, chicken stock, or a bit of white vermouth, or a combination works fine. Add a couple of bay leaves, and some salt. Turn the crockpot on low and go to work (or carry on your normal day's activities).
- 4 When you get home, or in the evening, turn off the crockpot. Put water on to boil the spaghetti. Remove chicken from the crockpot and discard skin and bones.
- 5 In a deep pot, heat olive oil. Add onion and garlic and cook until the onions are clear. Add tomato sauce, stewed tomatoes, tomato puree, the chicken and about a cup of the chicken broth from the crockpot. (If you add too much broth, the sauce will be too soupy; if you add too little, the chicken taste will be a bit weak.) Stir, cutting up the whole tomatoes. Add celery, onion powder, garlic powder, peppers, basil, parsley, paprika, and oregano. Cook, stirring from time to time, while the water for the spaghetti comes to a boil. Cook spaghetti, drain and serve with grated Parmesan cheese on the side.

| 4 lb | Brisket, rump, pot roast OR | 1/2 | Green pepper;, diced          |
| 4 lb | Boneless beef short ribs    | 1   | cup BBQ sauce (your favorite) |
| 1    | Onion; sliced               |     |                               |

Procedure

- 1 Brown meat in heavy skillet. Put onion and pepper in bottom of the crockpot, placing the roast on top of vegs and then pour the sauce over meat. When doing short ribs, I layer the meat and veggies, then pour in the sauce. ADD NO ADDITIONAL LIQUID! Cover and cook on LOW for 8 - 10 hours (HIGH for 4 - 5 hours). When meat is done, remove from pot with slotted spatula & place on a broiler pan. Pour some of the juices and sauce over meat and place under broiler for 5 - 10 mins. turning once. You can allow the juices to thicken in the pot to serve with the meat. You can also use that recipe for spareribs, using 2 cups of BBQ sauce for 3 - 4 pounds of spareribs.

Reduce heat, cover and simmer 45 minutes. Add split peas, lentils and barley. Cover and simmer another hour until all beans are tender. (Note: I like it spicy so I added lots of tabasco and pepper). I know this is more of a "winter recipe" but I think it will be good cold, also. Things got a bit mushy in the crockpot so it might be better to cook on the stove.

Crockpot Beef Brisket

Beef brisket; choice size

Bottle liquid smoke*

Procedure

- 1 Select a brisket the size you want for the number of people you are serving. The best kind of liquid smoke to use is Colgin's. I can't get in in Indiana, and have to import it from Texas! Shake the desired amount of liquid smoke on the brisket. I use about half a bottle for a large brisket. Sometimes I add a clove or two of garlic, but not always, and not necessary. Cook on low for about 16 hours. I usually start this the evening before I want to serve it the next day--cook it all night, put in in the fridge until afternoon, and then return it to cooking for about 4 to 6 more hours that evening. This long amount of cooking makes it nice and tender. Slice against grain. Serve with potato salad and baked beans. Yum! Yum Yum. I have also wrapped brisket in foil, and cooked it with liquid smoke in the oven for a long time--but crock pot is easier.

1 cup	ALL-PURPOSE FLOUR	1/4 cup	BUTTERMILK
1 cup	SUGAR	1	EGG, beaten
1/2 tsp	BAKING SODA	1/2 tsp	VANILLA EXTRACT
1/4 tsp	GROUND CINNAMON (optional)	1/4 cup	WALNUTS, finely chopped
1/3 cup	BUTTER or MARGARINE

Procedure

---

- 1 Well grease two 1-pint straight-sided wide-mouth canning jars; line the bottom of each jar with waxed paper. Set aside.
- 2 In a small bowl stir together flour, sugar, baking soda and cinnamon, if desired. Set aside.
- 3 In a medium saucepan combine butter or margarine, water, and cocoa powder; heat and stir till margarine is melted and mixture is well blended. Remove from heat; stir in flour mixture. Add buttermilk, egg and vanilla; beat by hand until smooth. Stir in nuts.
- 4 Pour mixture into the prepared canning jars. Cover the jars tightly with greased foil. (Place greased-side down on each jar).
- 5 Place jars in a 3 1/2, 4, 5, or 6-quart crockery cooker with liner in place. Cover; cook on high heat setting for 2-3/4 to 3 hours or until cakes spring back when touched and a long wooden toothpick inserted near the centers comes out clean. Remove jars from cooker; cool 10 minutes. Unmold cakes; remove waxed paper. Serve warm or cool with ice cream. Makes servings.
- 6 WARNING: Use only CANNING JARS for this recipe. Others may not be tempered to withstand the heat. Do NOT use coffee or vegetable cans as most contain lead and are painted or sealed with materials that may give off toxic gases when heated.
- 7 This recipe doesn't say you can seal them up and store them in your pantry but my Kerr Canning book recipe says you can; here's how:
- 8 Remove jars from the oven one at a time, wipe rim of jar clean; put on lid and ring and screw on tightly. Jars will seal as the cake cools. Store like canned goods.
- 9 If you'll be giving these as gifts, take a piece of decorative cloth (about 1-inch larger in circumference than the lid) and put it on top of the lid, then screw on

Crockpot Brownie Cakes in a Jar
the ring. Make sure you screw the lid on very tightly. I like to use pinking shears to cut the cloth out with.

Crockpot Chili Verde

1	Onion; coarsely chopped	2	lb	Pork, lean; trimmed & cubed
1	Bell pepper, green; coarsely chopped	2	tsp	Oregano
		2	tsp	Sage
4	Garlic clove; minced	1	tsp	Cumin
1	Tbs Olive oil	1	tsp	Red pepper flakes
4	oz Green chile, canned diced	1/2	cup	Beer
1	Jalape#o; diced (opt)
7	Tomatillo

Procedure

---

- 1 First, saute one onion and one green pepper, coarsely chopped, with three or four cloves of garlic, minced, in olive oil. Throw into the crockpot. Also throw in a small can of diced green chiles. Depending on your propensity for spicy food, you may add from one to three jalapenos, sliced. Then, throw some tomatillos in the pot. How many? Well, when I got fresh ones in San Diego, I'd get seven or eight. Peel off the husk and coarsely chop. Now that I've moved to Pittsburgh (don't ask me why), I've had to use canned ones on occasion. How many? Well, I don't really remember, it was one medium sized can, I think. Pay attention: I mean tomatillos, not green tomatoes. The Frugal Gourmet substituted celery and tomatoes. I haven't forgiven him yet.
- 2 Take about 2 pounds of lean pork (I trim off all the excess fat I can), cubed, and brown in the pan that you sauteed the onion, etc. in. Into the pot. Now, the seasoning mixture. I prefer to grind up in my mortar oregano, some dried red chile peppers, sage, and cumin seed. Perhaps also some black pepper. I almost never put salt in anything, so I probably wouldn't here either, but you may want to. How much? Well, about 2 tsp each of the oregano and the sage. 1 tsp each of the cumin seed and dried red peppers. Salt and pepper to taste. I probably will add a dash of beer (about 1/2 cup) for obscure reasons.
- 3 This crockpots all day, or could be simmered for probably about 2 hours.
- 4 Traditionally, this is served in bowls, with hot flour tortillas, salsa, and cilantro. You can also have sour cream, grated cheese, olives, and pickled carrots and jalapenos around. Of course, you wrap all this up in the tortillas, making killer burritos.
- 5 I throw one twist into this, a technique that comes from carnitas. After cooking, I separate the meat from the broth, crisp the meat under the broiler, and reduce the sauce in the pan. This adds a great texture to the meat, and keeps the burritos from being too soggy. This is not what the original requester would want to do.

- 4 Cover; cook on high setting for 1-1/2 to 1-3/4 hours or until a wooden toothpick inserted near centers comes out clean.
- 5 Remove jars from cooker; cool 10 minutes in jars. Remove bread from jars. Cool thoroughly on wire rack. Makes 2 loaves.
- 6 FOR 3-1/2 to 4 QUART CROCKPOTS--Halve all ingredients.
- 7 WARNING: Use only CANNING JARS for this recipe. Others may not be tempered to withstand the heat. Do NOT use coffee or vegetable cans as most contain lead and are painted or sealed with materials that may give off toxic gases when heated.
- 8 This recipe doesn't say you can seal them up and store them in your pantry but my Kerr Canning book recipe says you can; here's how:
- 9 Remove jars from the oven one at a time, wipe rim of jar clean; put on lid and ring and screw on tightly.
- 10 Jars will seal as the cake cools. Store like canned goods.
- 11 If you'll be giving these as gifts, take a piece of decorative cloth (about 1-inch larger in circumference than the lid or as large as you'd like) and put it on top of the lid, then screw on the ring. Make sure you screw the lid on very tightly. I like to use pinking shears to cut the cloth out with.

Crockpot Rice Pudding with Fruit

1	cup Rice	1	tsp Vanilla extract
1	cup Sugar	1/2	cup Dried apricots or peaches; m
3	Tbs Margarine; solid	1/4	tsp Ground cinnamon

Procedure

- 1 Preparation Time: 3:00 * Use half nonfat and half whole milk, or all nonfat for lower fat content.
- 2 Substitute canned milk for the regular milk for a very rich flavor. The cooking time will vary greatly, anywhere from 1-1/2 to -1/2 hours. The longer it cooks the thicker it will be. It is important to have the dried apricots minced. Put all ingredients into crockpot. Stir to blend well. Cover and cook on high - 1/2 hours, stir once after about 1 hour. Or, cook on high for the first 30 minutes, turn to low and cook as long as you desire. Check after the first 2 hours of low cooking and stir. If rice is not absorbing the milk quickly enough, turn the crockpot up to high again. Keep cover on at all times.
- 3 Crockpot temperatures vary widely among different brands. Only experimentation can tell you the correct amount of time for cooking in your crockpot. Rarely will a crockpot recipe fail, though, as the long, slow cooking process does not require precise timing.

Crockpot Tips

Procedure

---

- 1 Cookers should be at least half full to get best results
- 2 Don't remove the cover for a 'look see' until at least one hour before the meal is supposed to be ready to eat as heat will escape when you lift the lid and the cooking time will be lengthened as much as 15-20 minutes
- 3 It is not necessary to pre-brown any meats unless they are fatty. If necessary, brown your meat in a separate frying pan and pour off any excess fat before putting the meat in your pot.
- 4 You'll probably end up with more liquid than when you started because almost nothing boils away in a slow cooker, and the foods you have been cooking will have given up some of their own natural juices. Sauces in the slow cooker will, therefore, tend to be on the thin side. To thicken them slightly (for gravies, etc.) ladle out the sauce into a saucepan, boil it down to reduce the liquid volume, add a little flour (or your own heavy gravy recipe) and stir to prevent any burn on.
- 5 Milk, cream, cheese, pasta, rice and fish usually cook in a short time. These types of ingredients should not be added to the cooker until shortly before you are ready to serve. Milk and cream can curdle during long cooking periods and as far as timing for putting in cheese, rice, fish and the like this will generally be included in the recipe.
- 6 Always try to use fresh vegetables when required. If you are forced to use frozen vegetables in any recipe, add them during the last hour of cooking, otherwise they'll lose their bright colors and taste overcooked.
- 7 If your recipe calls for meat and vegetables cooked in a little liquid place the vegetables on the bottom. Position doesn't matter all that much if your making a stew or chowder which calls for a large amount of liquid.
- 8 The more liquid (juice) the faster the cooking process will be.
- 9 An extra hour on low doesn't mean that your dinner will be burned, but it may produce slightly mushier vegetables and softer meat.
- 10 To vary time at different settings, one hour on high is equal to 1/2 hours on low.
- 11 You may find that your family prefers a bit more seasonings with long cooking- salt, pepper, hot sauces, etc
- 12 Spices tend to lose their pungency during long cooking so either add whole spices and leaf herbs at the start, or if you're using ground condiments add them during the last hour of cooking time.

Crockpot Tips I

Procedure

- 1 The crockpot is ideal for working people who must be away from home all day (or for those days when you must run errands or attend meetings, or for when you're entertaining and want to get the food preparation done early.) The food will simmer for 10 to 12 hours on Low if you must be gone all day or you may cook the food in 5 to 6 hours on High. If you are single, you can purchase a Crockpot as small as 1-quart size. It is a very simple appliance to operate and you will find that the cooked food is very tasty. If you a working person or one who knows they will have a very busy day, you can do most of the chopping and measuring the night before. Then refrigerate these ingredients until the next morning. If your crockpot has a REMOVABLE liner, you can assemble and refrigerate the food right in the liner which will be easy to pop in the crockpot the next a.m. Be sure you don't fill the crockpot so full that the food pushes up on the lid. The crockpot depends on the heat that builds up in the container itself. The lid must stay securely on the crockpot while it cooks. Resist the temptation to take a quick peek or stir frequently. Protect the crockery liner. Do not subject it to sudden temp. changes. Do not preheat the cooker and then add food. Do not pour cool water into the crockery liner while it is still hot after food has been removed. The crockpot is great for cooking less expensive cuts of meat such as beef chuck pot roasts, brisket, and pork shoulder roasts, because the long cooking at low heat tenderizes the meat. The low temp. also keeps the meat from shrinking as much as it does during other cooking methods. For recipes that call for small cuts of meat (especially recipes reduced to fit into 1 quart cookers), keep your eyes peeled for specials at the meat counter. When meat is on sale, it's usually sold in 1 lb. pieces. Buy these cuts and divide them into smaller portions. Wrap individually, label and freeze for later use. Also be on the lookout for packed smaller cuts of meat. If your store offers only 1 lb. roasts, ask the butcher to cut a 1 to 1 1/2 lb. piece for you. Freezing chicken pieces before cooking in the crockpot slows cooking of the chicken and assures tenderness without overcooking when the rest of the foods are done. At least a day before CONTINUED IN NEXT NOTE

Crockpot Tips II

Procedure

- 1 As soon as possible, transfer any leftover food to a storage container and refrigerate or freeze. For extra convenience, use an automatic timer to start the cooker while you're away. However, the food should NOT stand more than 2 hours before the crockpot switches on. If using the timer, assemble the recipe and THOROUGHLY chill it. When time to leave the house, place chilled food in the crockpot. EXCEPTION: If the recipe calls for frozen chicken or fish, do NOT use an automatic timer! The standing time would give the frozen food a chance to thaw, resulting in overcooked fish or chicken. CLEANUP: As soon as you remove the food from the crockpot, unplug it and fill the liner with VERY HOT soapy water. (DO NOT ADD COOL WATER!!) Let the liner soak while you're eating. NEVER IMMERSSE THE OUTSIDE PART OF THE COOKER OR LET THE CORD GET IN WATER!! Wipe the outside metal shell with a damp soft cloth and dry with a towel. MAKE AHEAD TIP: The night before, brown the meat, drain well, and wrap in foil. Clean and chop vegetables. Place vegetables, seasonings and liquids into a bowl (or liner, if removable) and chill overnight. Lifting meat loaf into and out of the crockpot is easy if you use foil "handles. Tear off 3 18x2-inch strips of HEAVY foil (or use reg. foil folded to double thickness). Crisscross the foil strips in a spoke design on top of a large sheet of waxed paper. Shape the meat loaf in the center of the spoke. Lift the ends of the foil strips to transfer the meat loaf to the cooker. Leave strips under meat during cooking. The strips will enable you to remove the cooked meat without destroying its shape. Layer foods for best result. First, place vegetables in the bottom of the crockpot. Next sprinkle quick-cooking tapioca over the vegetables. The tapioca will thicken the juices as the meal cooks, making a delicious, ready-to-serve gravy. Finally, set the meat atop the vegetables and place the lid on the crockpot securely. For soup toppers, use crushed crackers, shredded cheese, toasted bread cubes or seasoned croutons, plain or cheese-flavored popcorn, shredded carrot, sour cream and snipped parsley or chives. For more elaborate toppers, cut shapes from toast with cookie cutters. (Fun to float on a soup.) For extra flavor, spread the toast with flavored butter, cheese spread or pesto before cutting. Freeze leftover foods in freezer containers with tight-fitting lids. Food expands when frozen. Leave 1/2" head room below rims of containers. You can also cool soup or broth in ice cube trays.

2		package Onion soup mix
2	12 oz	Bot's Chili Sauce
1/2	cup	Brown sugar:more or less

Procedure

- 1 In Crockpot on High, place cut up pieces of Beef and pork if you want to combine them, or just one or the other. I use what ever beef is on sale trim as much fat off as I can. Cut in large chunks put in Crock with 1 to 2 packages of onion soup mix. I usually use a good 4 to 6 lb roast we like to freeze it. Use enough water to cover. You can add additional onions and celery to give it more flavor. And cook until fork tender. Remove from Crock, put meat on platter to cool, and save a couple of cups of the juice it was cooked in. Put into the crockpot the Chili Sauce, brown sugar, Molasses(optional) Worcestershire to taste. I do not like it too hot so I don't use more than a couple of tablespoons. Now take your meat on a board and start to shred it with a fork and paring knife, how ever it is easy for you, I don't like it to fine so do not use my processor. Just cut in pieces and shred, OK. Now put it back in crock and add enough of the juice it was cooked in, with the onions from the mix also, it adds to the flavor.Add just enough juice to make it moist, save some of the juice for as it cooks on simmer you may have to add some more. If you use for a cookout, you can keep it plugged in, and keep a check for moistness, when it gets a little dry just add some more juice. I use hamburger rolls. or bakery Hamburger rolls, or Kaiser rolls. What ever you prefer. It goes a long way. Left over's I put in little freezer bags or in the margarine containers,1/2 lb size, and freeze. Just enough for two sandwich's for lunch. From I take a small portion and just add everything but the sugar and use Twin Brown sugar. Does very well.

Procedure

- 1 Baking in a Slow Cooker As mentioned before, under some circumstances (when it is cooking stews and casseroles and braising meats, for instance) a slow cooker acts as a Dutch oven. But at other times it can be like a small real oven or a steamer. Because it uses up so few energy-pennies a day, it is economical to use for baking small quantities, Baking in an oven, unless you really need lots of space, heats a large area when a smaller one would do. If things baked in your slow cooker don't come out just right the first time, experiment a little, and eventually you'll turn out surprisingly handsome baked goods. Test one or two recipes here in your baking equipment ~ you may want to halve some of the recipes. To do much baking in a slow cooker, you must have one of the larger units. The low, small units can't handle much. But it is fun to try half recipes in them, and all the other recipes in this section can be halved and cooked in smaller units. One of the manufacturers - notably - are marketing baking units that fit inside slow cookers. If your slow cooker isn't equipped with a baking utensil, you can easily improvise. Study the commercial baking units offered, and you'll see they are tall so that doughs can rise high. They are lidded to keep the steam, which forms inside the cover of the slow cooker, from falling back into the batter or dough. Below the lid, there are vents in the sides of the container so that steam from the cooking batter can escape into the slow pot. A cover to keep steam from falling into the batter and venting to let steam out of the cooking utensil are the essential elements in baking improvisations. A two-pound coffee can is a good substitute. Muffin tins don't fit slow cookers. However, Pyrex muffin cups do. I make a double-decker layer of them, using Pyrex cups or a plate to cover the bottom layer and a piece of foil to keep steam from the top layer. About 6 Pyrex muffin cups, each 2 1/2 inches across, fit several of the slow-cooker models on the market--making half the average recipe. (If you have mixed up a batch of ingredients and find it doesn't fit the intended baking equipment, cook in a mold. Custards cook beautifully in a souffle dish or casserole. Use a 1/2 quart size, topped with a loosely placed foil lid to keep condensing steam from falling into custard. Also use a Pyrex cup as a rack on the floor of the slow-cooker; and crumpled foil pressed over the upended bottom of the Pyrex cup stabilizes the casserole resting on top.) One thing you'll find helpful for baking is a trivet or a metal rack. If your cooker doesn't come equipped with one, measure the cooker's diameter and buy one, or use a Pyrex cup, as explained above. In my experience, breads and cakes are more successful when they sit a little above the floor of the slow cooker than when they sit right on it.

Procedure

- 1 About Baking Recipes When you are baking in a slow cooker, prepare the dough or batter as you would when cooking in conventional utensils; then pour the batter or place the dough in a container the right size to fit inside your slow cooker. The large cookers will take 1-, 1 1/2-, and 2- or 3-quart molds. The molds' high sides are important. The dough or batter needs space to rise under a cover. Since molds don't come equipped with covers or lids, use a plate or piece of foil to cover the mold and to keep steam from dampening the dough. A mold can sit on a Pyrex cup if you have no trivet. Some doughs and batters don't need to be protected from the steam - for instance, Plum Pudding is steamed rather than baked. Other batters are dense enough to take all the steam likely to fall on them without harm. But other batters, such as Pound Cake, should be kept away from steam. Moist cakes and tea breads come out very well in the slow cooker. And you'll find it is fun to experiment with making homemade breads of all sorts from scratch. Among the recipes that follow are some basic combinations. Use these to adapt your own favorite recipes for fruit breads, yeast breads, and buns.
- 2 Using the Timer for Baking While some baked goods turn out well cooked on Low, many of the recipes call for cooking on High for just a few hours (not 8 to 10 hours!). Mix your batter and use a timer to start the slow pot going in your absence. That lets you leave whenever you like and come back to the aroma of ready- to-eat muffins or cake. If you delay baking goods containing baking powder and baking soda, they may end up flatter than they should be. This may be because the baking powder or baking soda warmed up as soon as the ingredients were mixed and had lost its rising power by the time baking began. Keep all the ingredients cooled when you time your baking to start several hours after the batter has been mixed. If the recipes call for water in the slow cooker before baking starts, add an equivalent of ice cubes for timer-started baking. You won't get the kind of richly browned tops on goods baked in slow cookers that you get in an oven. Icing or glaze will mask that for party occasions. But in truth it's such a treat to have comfort foods without seeing the cook slaving over the stove for an hour before it is served that no one will mind much.
- 3 Don't Lift the Lid During Baking During the early part of the baking, don't lift the lid. You will let out heat and delay the baking process. When the baked goods are almost done, lift the lid and test quickly for doneness by inserting a toothpick in the center of the cake or bread.

4 Puddings, Custards, and Compotes Some other breakfast foods from Grandmother's day are stewed dried fruits such as prunes, raisins, and apricots. These (as well as fresh fruits) can be cooked overnight in the cooker and be ready to eat when you get up. Or they can be cooked overnight and chilled all day, to provide economical and richly nutritious desserts for dinner. In many areas, electrical rates are lower at night than during the day. In these areas, overnight cooking has a double appeal: you rise to a delicious breakfast at half the price! Custards and puddings respond beautifully to the slow, gentle heat of the slow cooker. Some require covering to keep steam from the ingredients. I've included two basic rice pudding recipes that will give you an idea of what the cooker can do in this area. Caramel Custard - one of the world's favorite desserts - also turns out well in a slow cooker.

Whisk all other ingredients (except cooked rice, broccoli, cornstarch and water) together and pour over the chicken. Turn the crockpot on low and cook for four to five hours. If you desire, you may top with one 10 ounce package of frozen broccoli flowerets about one hour before the chicken is finished. Before serving, remove the chicken and broccoli and stir in the cornstarch mixture. Put crockpot on high until the broth bubbles and thickens. Turn crockpot off. Fix a pot of rice (or pasta) and you have a very easy, delicious meal. NOTE If you don't have fresh ginger root and garlic, you can substitute Gilroy's garlic and ginger blend.

Cover and cook on LOW for 7 to 8 hours or till the chicken is tender. Lift the chicken from the pot and let it cool until it is cool enough to handle. Now remove the meat from the chicken and freeze what you're not going to eat that night. You can also strain the stock and refrigerate it. Chill overnight and skim off the fat. Now you will also have delicious chicken broth and can use some of the chicken mixed with the broth for soup. One chicken will give him about 2-1/2 to 3 C of chicken meat and about 1 C of stock. This starts you off with an easy chicken recipe. I'm sure your dad won't eat 3 lbs. of chicken at one sitting, but the beauty of this dish is that the chicken is so versatile! He can freeze the leftover chicken and use it for a chicken salad, sandwich or just as it is! If you get him a 4 1/2 qt. crockpot, it will accommo two whole 3 lb. chickens and just think of all the leftovers he'll have to freeze then!!

Simple Crockpot Chicken

- 2 package Boneless, skinless chicken Parts; (can still be
- Partially frozen); rinsed and patted dry

Procedure

- 1 Place trivet (opt) in bottom of crockpot. Place alum foil on top of trivet, "bowl style", and place chicken parts into the foil "bowl". Turn on LOW and cook for 6-10 hours. I usually put two packs of chicken in and freeze what's left. Use the cooked chicken as you would for any recipe (Sw and Sour, BBQ, etc.) but for an instant dinner, take it out, add a little salt & pepper sprinkled over, and either place it on a plate plain with your veggies, potato, rice or noodles; or put it on a bun with whatever you like on buns. Low in fat, and the amount of salt is controlled, so it's filling and fast without negative side effects. Kids love it. NOTE: I go along with another crockpot user who says she just puts in any old meat, veggies, sauce, etc. I generally buy stew meat or round steak (two tough, cheap meats); add 1/2 to 1 cup tomato sauce or BBQ sauce, whatever's on hand, veggies are optional, and let'er rip. Often I fix the night before and refrigerate overnight. We like to eat around 5:30 PM, so I turn on in the early morning and long cooking is what I look for. I also try to double amounts to lengthen the cooking time, then am able to freeze part, and bring out a week later. Combined with the microwave, I rarely have to stand at the stove.

 COOKER TEMPERATURE-TIMING: Fill cooker half full of cold tap water.
 Heat, covered on high for 2 1/2 hours. If water boils in less time reduce recipe cooking time. If it takes more than 3 hours to boil add cooking time. FOR SAFETY: Use pot in a safe place where cord is up out of the way. Never store food in crockery pot. sudden temperature changes can crack ceramic liners. 180 degrees F. is a minimum safe temperature. Read and use cooker instructions carefully. TO SERVE : Garnish with parsley, carrot curls, crushed corn chips, tomatoes, sauces, olives, pimentos, mint leaves, lemon or orange slices. ADDITIONAL HINTS: Use timer for starting pot and cooking
